

Dear Prospective AAUW Member,

AAUW Kingston is an interesting collection of women and men. When I joined, I was privileged to meet them and to participate in different events and projects, especially those that reflect the Kingston Branch's commitment to providing college scholarships and supporting local activism.

On the national level, AAUW is an influential organization with an effective platform of activities. The New York State AAUW sponsors conferences open to all state branches. We invite you to explore our numerous projects and affiliations by visiting the national, state, and Kingston branch websites.

When you send in your application form, I will use your email address to place you on the Constant Contact list. You will then receive our newsletter and event announcements.

Thank you and I look forward to meeting you.

Warm regards,

Debra A Koehn
